

New Board Members Eager to Give Back

Shrina Faldu

Shrina Faldu went to Syracuse University for her undergraduate degree and to the University of Connecticut for her law degree. She is now an associate in the law firm of Seiger Gfeller Laurie LLP in West Hartford. Her practice is focused primarily in the areas of complex litigation and insurance defense. Shrina grew up in Windsor and her family still lives in Connecticut. Shrina was recently engaged and is planning a wedding for the Summer of 2017. Her older sister is getting married this summer. Very exciting year for the family!

When not working, Shrina enjoys spending time outdoors-biking, running, and hiking. She loves playing soccer and watching it as well. She is an avid New England Patriots fan.

Bob Laurie, a partner in Seiger Gfeller Laurie LLP, and a long time Bridge board member and board president for three years, approached Shrina about the Bridge and the possibility of serving on the board. He invited her to a View breakfast, an event that is held six times per year to acquaint people with the services of the Bridge. "I truly began to appreciate the wonderful work of the Bridge throughout our community," said Shrina. "The timing is perfect, as I was looking for a way to give back to the community. I am honored and very excited to lend my services to the Bridge as a member of the Board."
